

Role and remit of Shetland Community Justice Partnership, including membership

The Shetland Community Justice Partnership (SCJP) exists to oversee the planning and delivery of community justice and to promote and strengthen the coordination of services in Shetland, which will help in the desistance and/or reduction of offending or reoffending. Partnership working will focus on making the most of the services and resources available, both internally and externally to Shetland, to deliver services that are joined-up and responsive to local need.

Partnership Objectives	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To cooperate at a local level in the development, implementation and monitoring of a Community Justice strategic plan for Shetland on behalf of the Shetland Community Planning Partnership – the Shetland Partnership. • To agree the programme of joint actions and resources necessary to achieve the agreed priorities and deliver improvements. • To provide effective governance and performance management arrangements locally and report on progress to the Shetland Partnership Management & Leadership Team (MLT) and Community Justice Scotland (CJS) as requested. • To consult with other agencies and stakeholders, including those who provide services in the community justice field and service users as appropriate to achieve a collaborative approach to the development of local policy, services and interventions. • To provide a forum for mutual support comprising appropriate representatives from both statutory and non-statutory partners and encourage open discussion and information sharing. • To lead on and encourage local conversations about justice to support reintegration, reduce stigma and raise awareness of community justice issues in Shetland. • To promote the streamlining and coordination of activity and exchange of information within and between relevant partner agencies, committees and partnerships to enhance opportunities for wider policy and service development to take
